Product & Engineering Update

Introducing FAST — The Past and the Future

We've historically needed fluid collaboration. Our future — product over projects and agentic product engineering — demands it. Yesterday we took the first step.

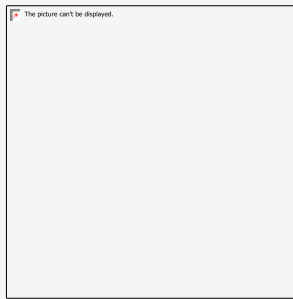

Staff Liquidity

- One collective — mobility across bounded contexts
- Form the right team for each task, every time
- Natural collaboration focused on the work at hand

Transparency

- One big picture via the Tree — not scattered boards
- Collectively shared commercial commitments and product direction
- Built-in knowledge-sharing, demos, and updates

Agility

- Adjust focus when needed, not when scheduled
- Refinement driven by continuous discovery, not ceremony
- Deliver the most important things — not all the things

Empowerment

- Less push, more pull — the ChronosHub hivemind
- Fewer bottlenecks, fewer handoffs — exploit the constraint
- We're in this together — let's work together!

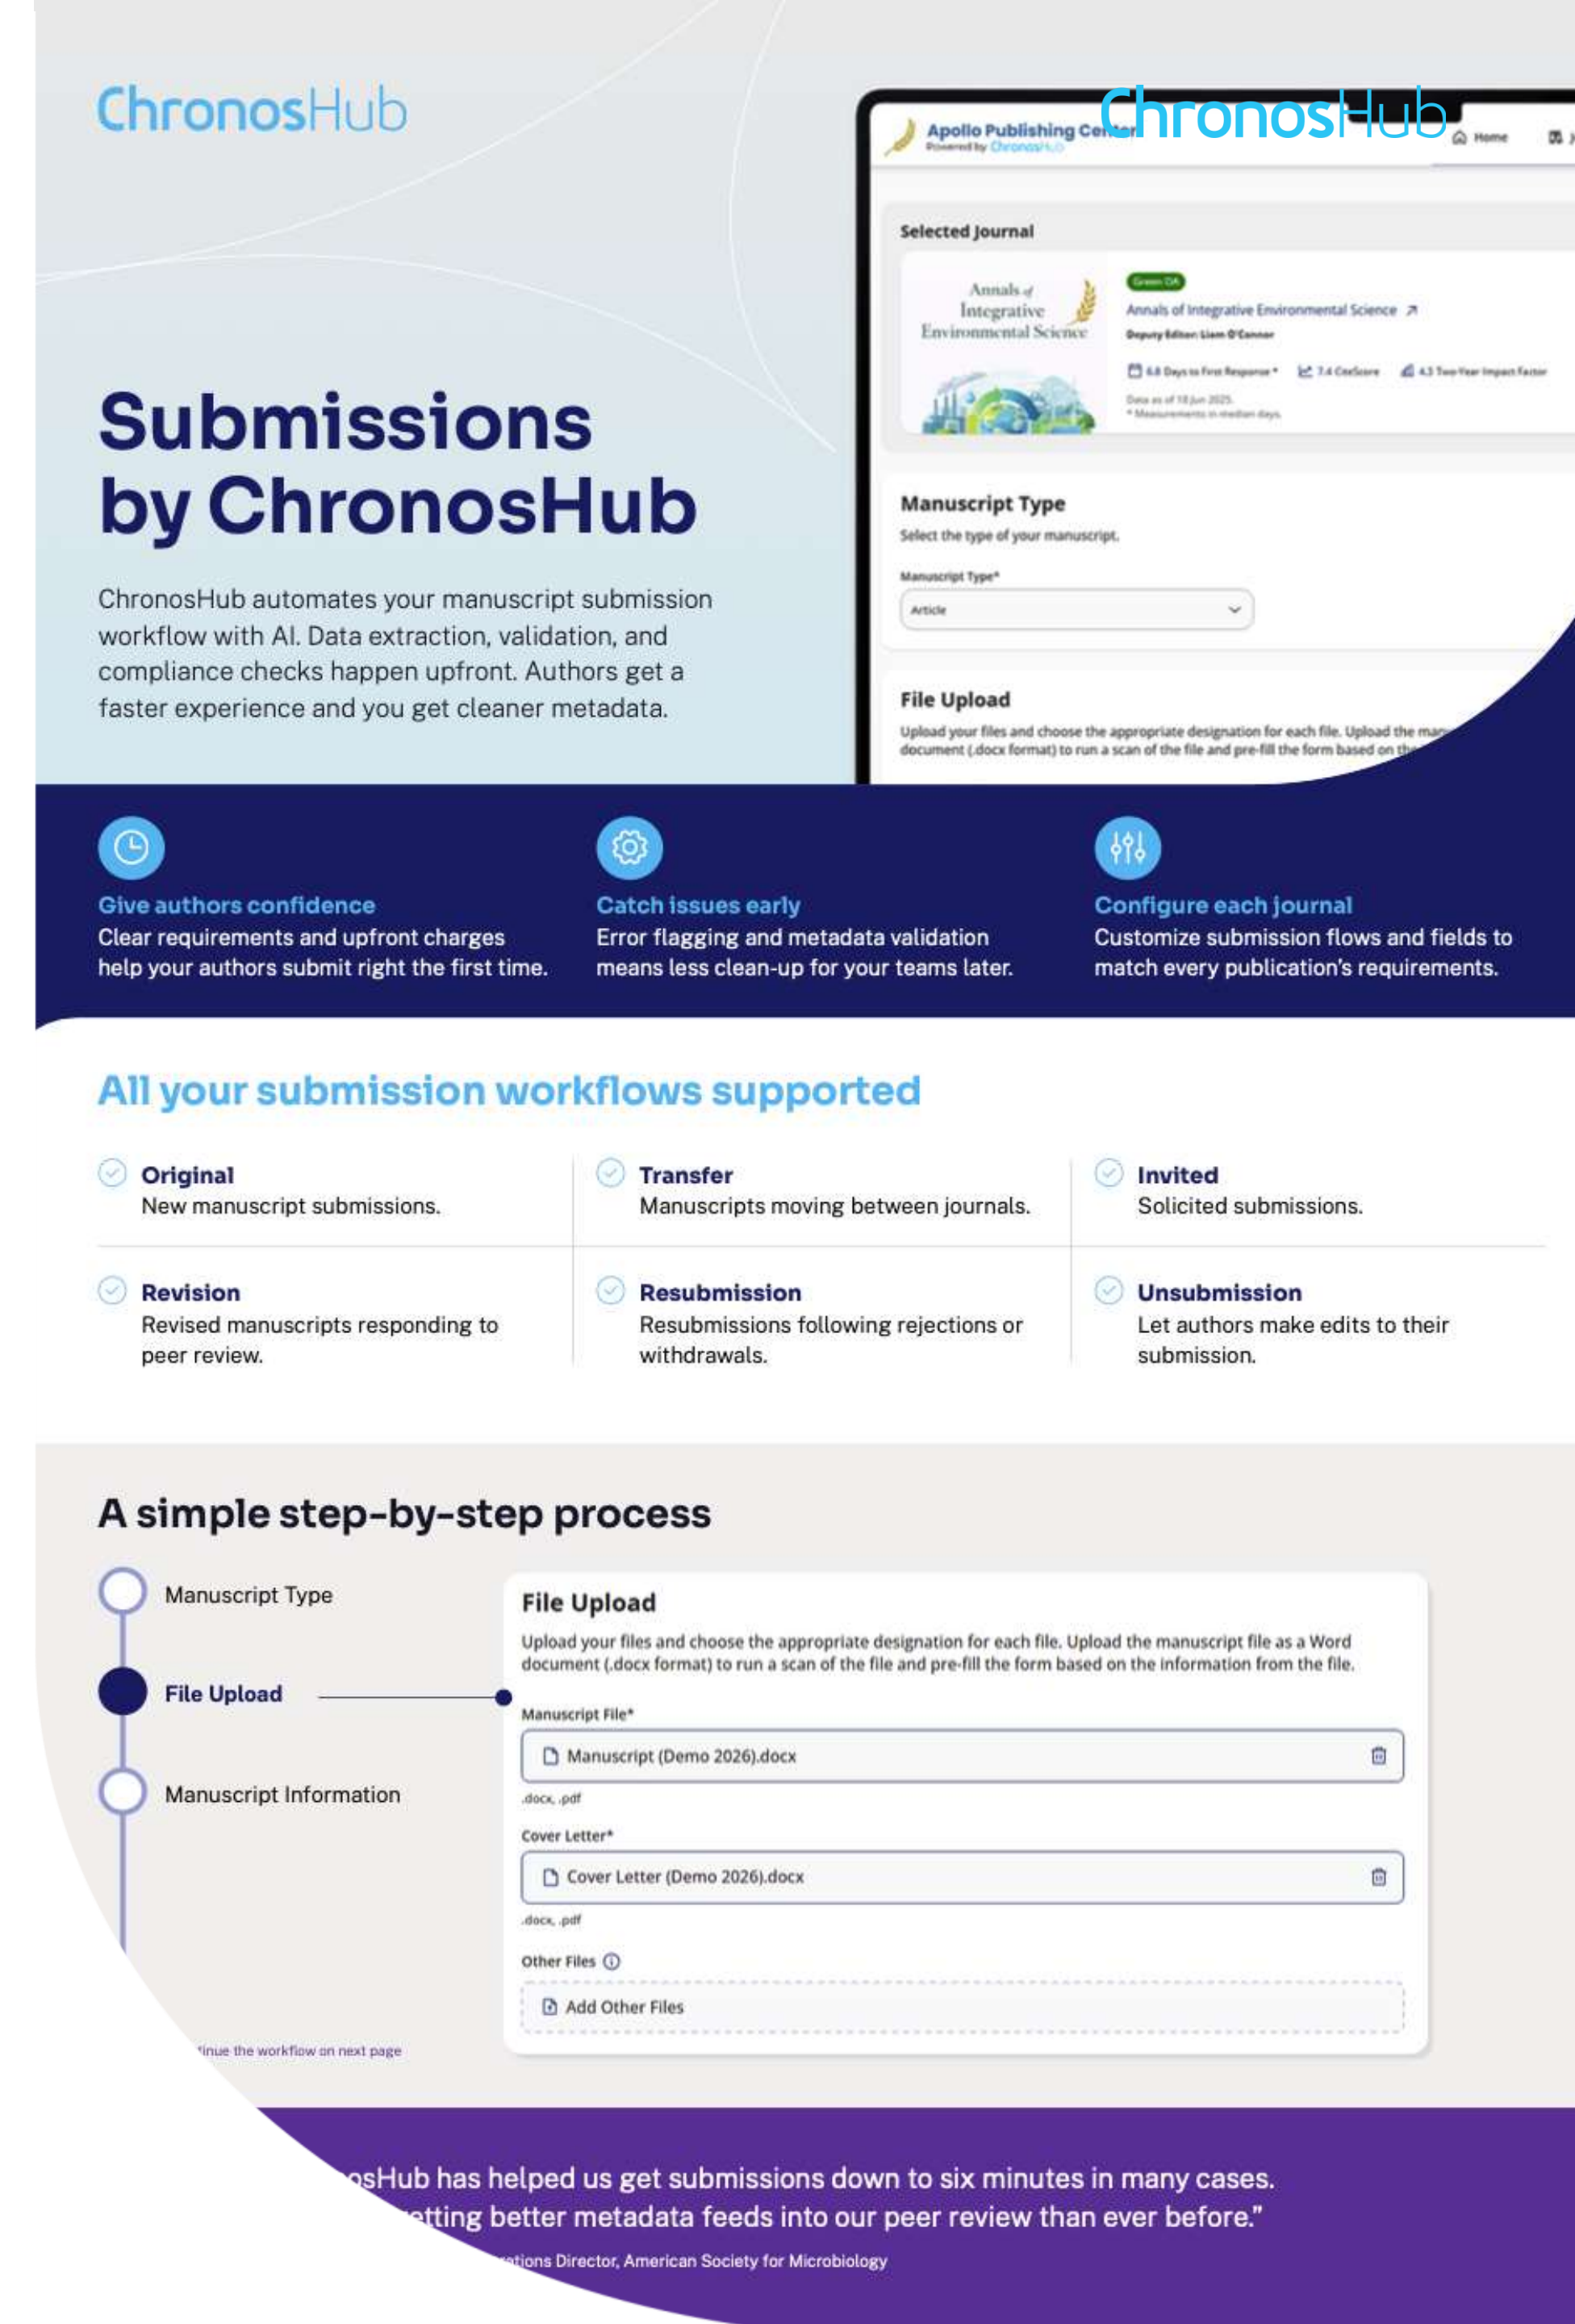

[FRONTIERHUB]

meeting, did a stellar job, and will allocate some of her time on FH going forward

Commercial & Marketing Updates

- Self-guided tours of our publisher products are implemented on the website.
- Test conference guidelines have been finalized and distributed to select employees, who will act as brand ambassadors and gather insights for content.
- We'll share the Aries/ChronosHub e-book and microsite for everyone to read.

People & Culture Updates

Values

ChronosHub

CLARITY

We communicate without the fluff.

Clear and open communication is the grease in our wheels. It keeps our pace lively while preventing misunderstandings with colleagues and customers.

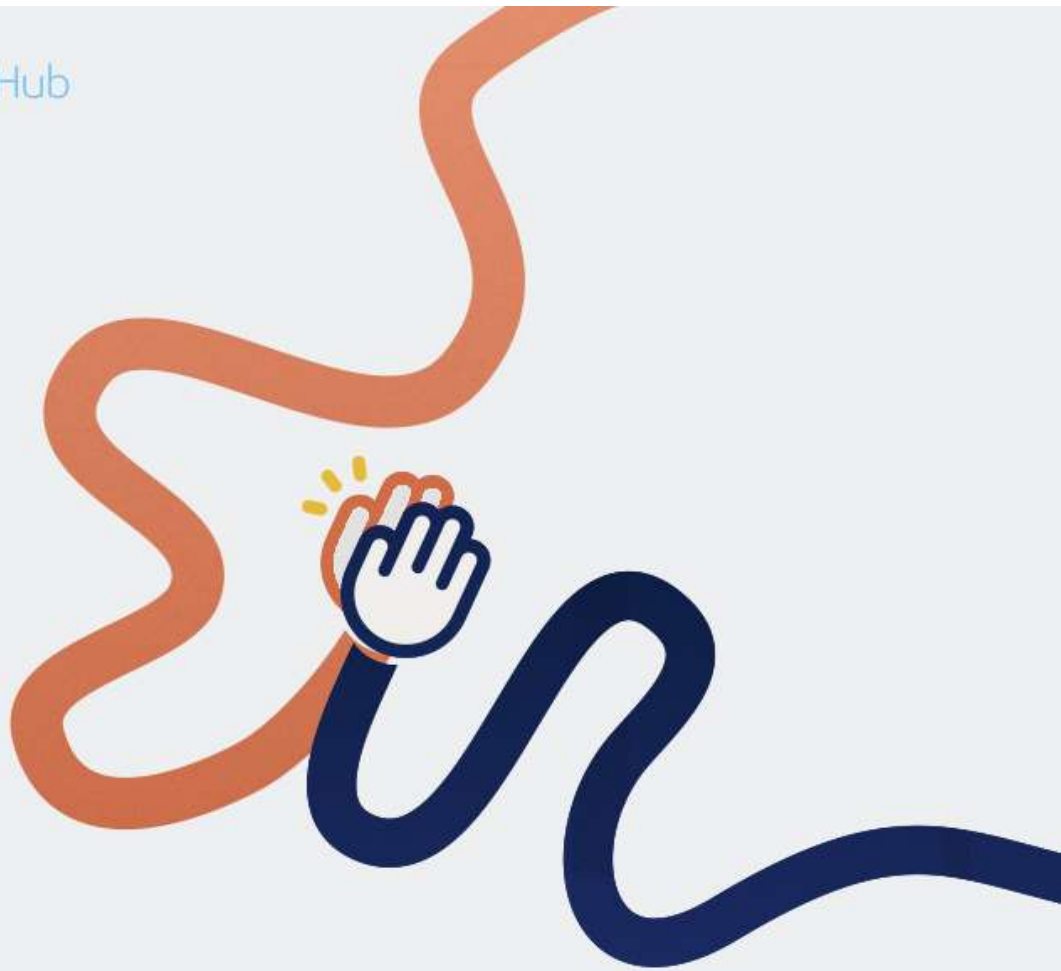

WE LIVE CLARITY BY:

- Setting clear expectations
- Documenting decisions
- Being considerate of audience and channel

AND WE EXPERIENCE:

- Faster decisions
- Fewer wires crossed
- Better engagement

ChronosHub

TRUST

We pride ourselves on being reliable.

To earn our customers' trust, we deliver on what we promise. Time and again. This focus on dependability is core to how we work internally too.

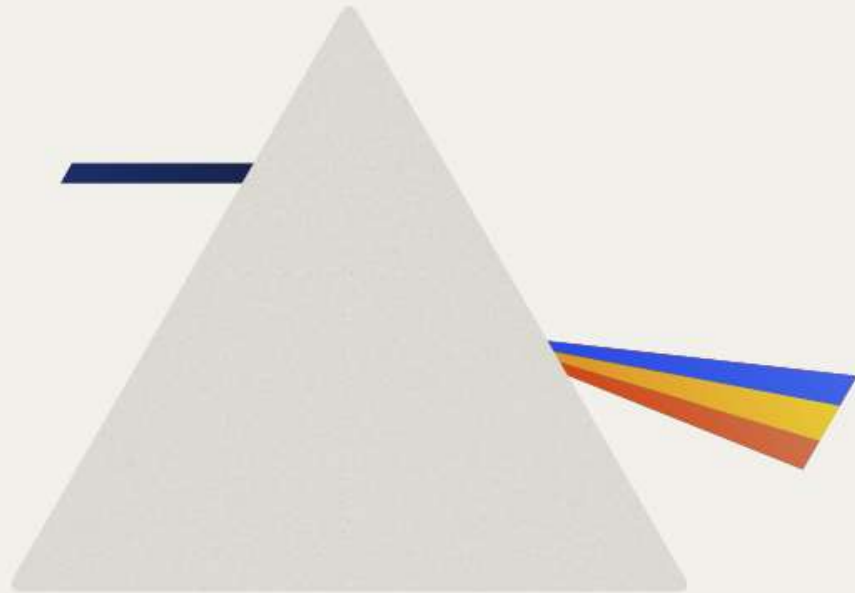

WE LIVE TRUST BY:

- Making room for failure
- Feeling safe to disagree
- Sharing different perspectives openly

AND WE EXPERIENCE:

- Personal development
- Closer relationships with colleagues and customers
- Improved performance

ChronosHub

TEAM

We bring the best out of each other.

We're never shy about sharing our expertise. Or asking a colleague to share theirs. Truly supportive and open-minded collaboration lifts us and the entire company.

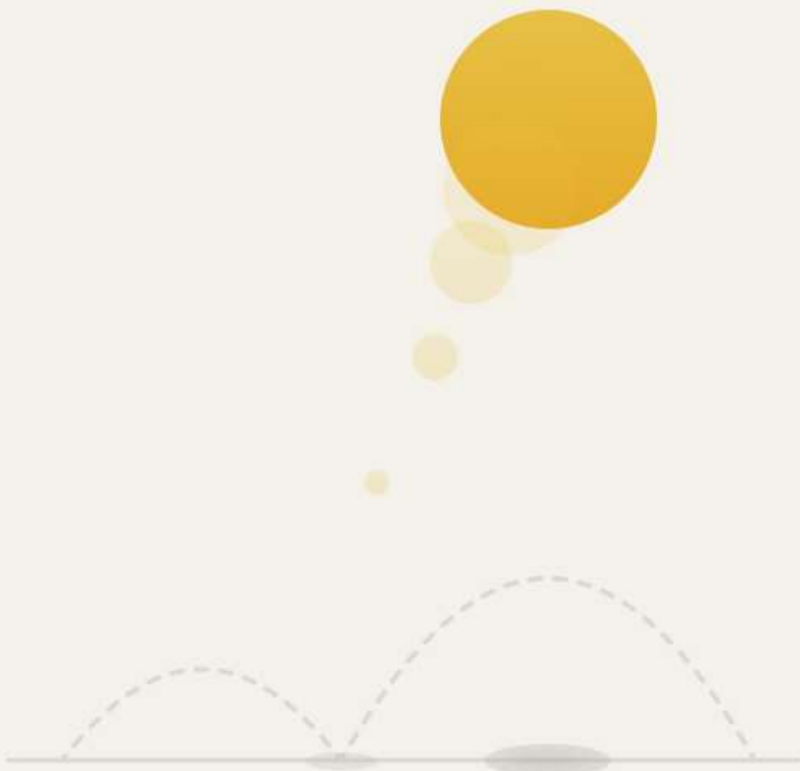

WE LIVE TEAM BY:

- Offering constructive feedback
- Admitting when we need help
- Solving problems collaboratively

AND WE EXPERIENCE:

- Better decision-making
- Increased productivity
- Security in knowing the team has our back

ChronosHub

JOY

We perform when we're having fun.

We take time to laugh and catch-up, both in and outside the office. This relaxed atmosphere uncorks creativity. And sees us through challenging times, together.

WE LIVE JOY BY:

- Talking about other stuff than work
- Bringing positivity to our interactions
- Spending time together, in and out of the office

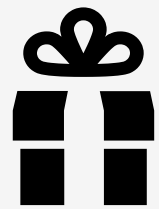

AND WE EXPERIENCE:

- Less nervousness about making mistakes
- Better rapport with our teammates
- Easier collaboration across departments and roles

Celebrating milestones

10

years

An additional day off per year – every year going forward

Wanted!

Work Environment Representatives

Be there for your colleagues

A direct line for team members who want to raise thoughts, ideas, or wellbeing topics.

Low time commitment

Just 1 hour per quarter for a joint WEO meeting. The rest is being present and approachable.

Shape the culture

An active role in building a healthy work environment — aligned with our values.

Performance talks cycle

- ✓ We want to foster a culture where managers and employees frequently can align and talk openly about performance, motivation and goals.
- ✓ We want a feedback culture where everyone knows what good performance looks like, what is expected, and where you can improve.

How do we think about performance?

Results

- The ability to deliver high quality work against goals, team priorities or targets.

- What targets have you met?
- How fast & reliably do you deliver? And what's the quality?

Skills

- The human + technical capabilities that help you succeed in your role.

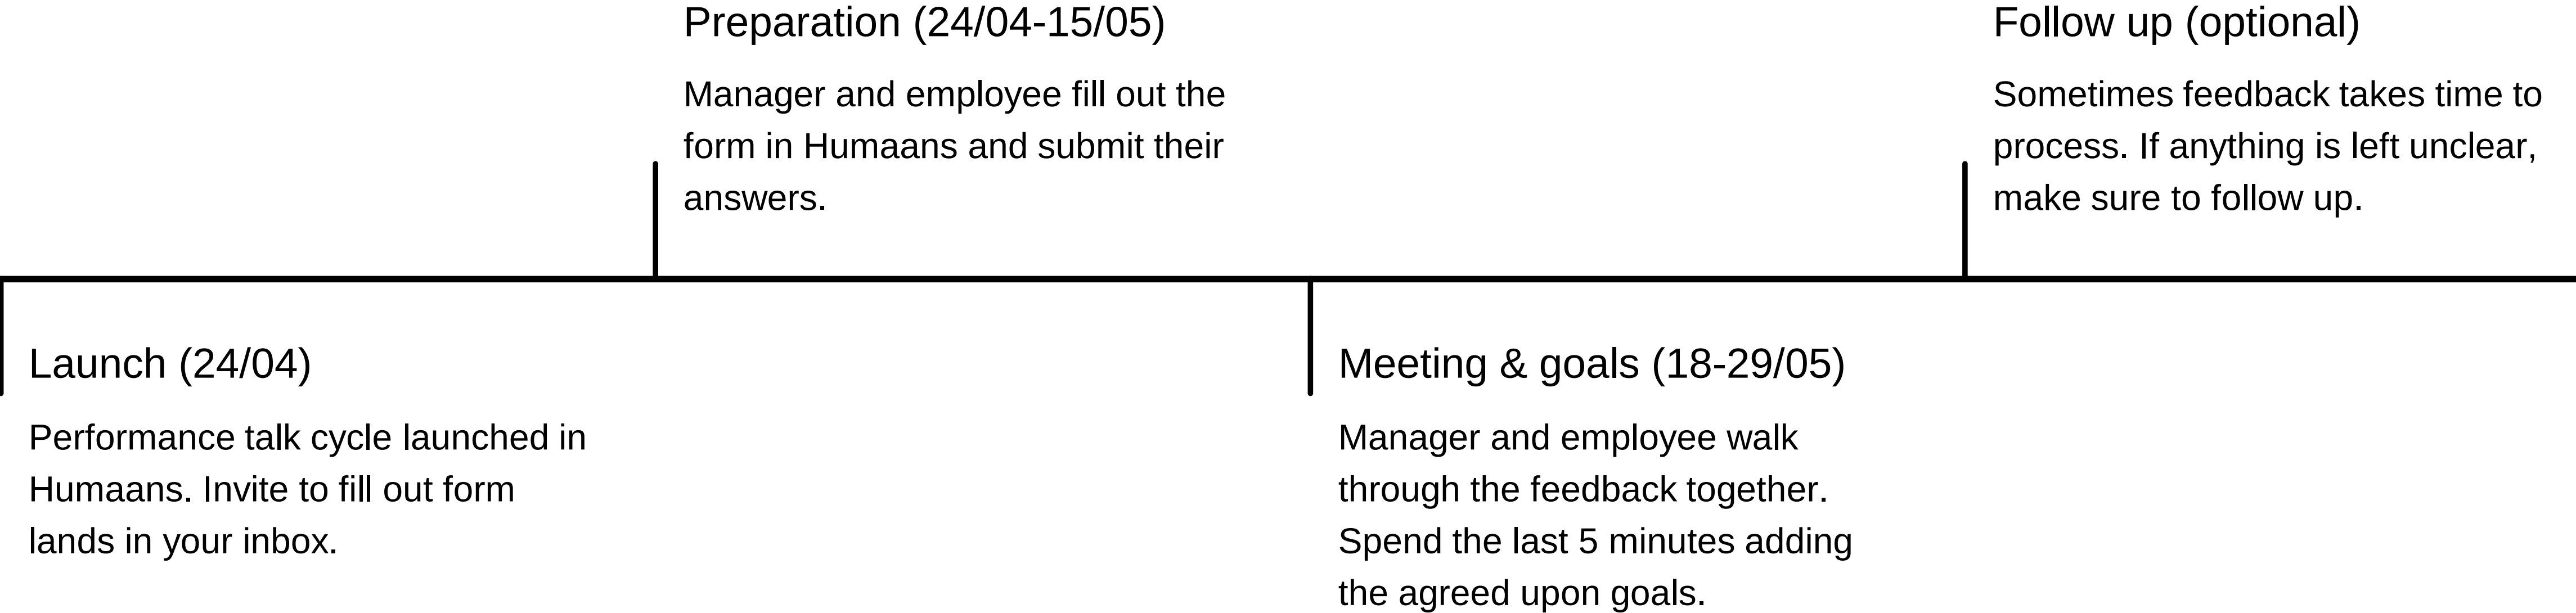

- How well do you fulfill the area of responsibility and tasks in your role description?

Culture

- The way you live our values and positively contribute to the team and company.

- How did you demonstrate our values in your work or with your team?

What does the process look like?

Your form

Right now

- How would you describe your engagement level right now in terms of workload, teamwork, motivating tasks, etc.?

Looking back

- What's one thing you're most proud of delivering in the last 6 months?
- What has been the most challenging in the last 6 months?
- Which skills have you grown or relied on most – and where do you still feel gaps?
- How is the collaboration with your manager and the broader team?
- Share a moment where you felt you were living one of our values – clarity, trust, team or joy.

Looking ahead

- What's your main focus for growth in the next period — and what would help you get there?
- What should be your top 2-3 goals for the next period?
- Is there anything else related to development, ambitions, obstacles ahead and/or well-being you'd like to discuss?

This round – and what's coming next

This cycle – performance talks

Kick off the first performance talks and try out the format. Goal is to build the habit of having these conversations, get feedback on the process and build on top of it.

Coming later – career progression framework

Build a career framework that gives everyone clarity on levels, progression, etc. Doing it properly takes time, so it's not launching with this cycle. It'll be integrated in the performance talk process when ready.

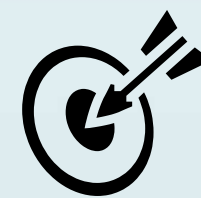

All-Company Strategy Update

Before the session

A short form lands in your inbox. Share your questions and input ahead of time so we can tailor the session.

The session (May 12)

Leadership shares where we're headed. A space for open dialogue, not just slides — ask questions!

After the session

A follow-up form to capture your reflections, thoughts, and any questions that came up. Leadership forum the day after.

- Office reminders & keeping the good vibes

🌸 Spring is here

With spring finally arriving, we're enjoying fresh air and open windows.

Before leaving the office, the last person should:

- Turn off the lounge TV and office lights
- Close all windows

Alarm system

Please revisit the information about our alarm system on the intranet from time to time.

I am exploring the option to have a second panel on the back-door as well, but for now, there's only the one on our entry door.

Meeting rooms

Please leave the rooms the way you'd like to receive them.

- Close the windows
- Turn off the lights
- Tuck in the chairs
- Take your coffee cup and any empty items with you

Something missing or not working – give Camilla a shout!
